Watches and Diamonds Given Away

with Ten and Coffee-A Novel Way of Introducing Goods.

The names of all persons receiving diamonds watches, etc., are added to this list daily. The Overland tea company of San Francisco have rented the store,

1305 Farmam, next to Hellman's clothing house, and is order to introduce their goods this company will present for sixty days souvenirs with every can of ton and coffee sold, such as solid gold, silver and nickel watches, also genuine diamonds in solid gold settings, silver tableware, also money and many other articles of less value. Every purchaser will receive a souvenir. The coffee, can and contents weigh about three pounds, the toa, can and contents weigh about one and a half pounds. This expensive and novel way of advertising will be discontinued after sixty days and these really choice grous will be sold strictly on their merits, but without the souvenir. Of course every purchaser must not expect to get a dia-mond or watch. This company claim that they have just as good a right to give away watches, diamonds or jewelry and money as their competitors have to give away glassware, chromos, etc. Get up a club. Those who get up a club order most always get a handsome pres-

WHAT SOCIETY IS DOING.

The Round of Fashionable Galety in the

MOVEMENTS OF NOTABLE PEOPLE.

City and Suburbs.

The Delightful Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Weller-Dr. and Mrs. George L. Miller's Charming Lawn Party.

A few intimations of coming teas, two par tles in the near future, a card or two for weddings of exceptional social significance, give some little indication that society is beginming to think again of the round of entertainments in town. Nearly all the "leaders' have returned from the seashore, the mountain and the continent, and the stir on the residence streets of the city show that the paper-hanger, the uphoisterer, the decorator, are at work refurbishing the homes of Omaha's 400,

In chat one hears a good deal of what the coming season may be, or ought to be, min-gled with a good deal of speculation as to who will have most to do with the direction of the polite world and the management of the functions of greatest social importance.

Who will be the buds of the season is also aquestion largely asked. And what more appropriate name could be found with which to head an Omaha list than that of Donne, to be followed very closely by another wellknown name, that of Wakeley?

Miss Daisy Doane and Miss Emily Wakeley, two very bright and interesting young w. .nen, who have just returned from a famous, fashionable, finishing school in Brooklyn, undoubtedly lead in the list of debutantes. Miss Lynn Curtis also stands very high on the list of the season's beauties. She is tall, with a fine figure, features that are classical in outline, and hair that is a beautiful shade of auburn. An accomplished performer on the piano, she will create flattering comment in the social world.

Among others who will be in the battalion of debutantes will be Miss Opal Touzalia, Miss Pearl Hartman, daughter of the president of the real estate exchange; Miss Mabel Pratt, an exceedingly jolly and pretty girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Pratt, Miss Marnie Moore, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Moore and Miss Lola Carter, daughter of the president of the American Loan & Trust company.

BROWN AND AUSTIN. Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock the marririage of Mr. Frank Brown and Miss Ada Austin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Austin, was solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents, 507 South Twentieth street, Rev. P. S. Merrill of the First M. E. church officiating. After the ceremony the newly married couple left on a formight's wedding tour to Minneapolis and other north-

BENTON AND BENRY. The marriage of Lieutenant James Watson Benton and Miss Sarah Wharton Henry was solemnized at the residence of Mr. Courtland Gale, Williamstown, Mass., Thursday. Both families have distinguished ancestry, the wedding being considered most advantageous. The groom is the son of Colonel Benton of The groom is the son of Colonel Benton of the ordnance department, who died some years ago. He is a nephew of General Alexader Webb, president of the College of the City of New York, and Dr. Sewarrd Webb, one of the vice-presidents of the New York Central railway. He is a grandson of Watson Webb, the celebrated New York politician.

The bridge-level can claim just as distinct. The bride-elect can claim just as distinguished a family tree. She is a great-grand-daughter of Daniel D. Tompkins, twice governor of New York and vice-president of the United States; also of Smith Thompson, one of the secretaries of the may in the old days, and afterwards a justice of the surrecess. and afterwards a justice of the supreme court of the United States. She is also a descend-ant of the Livingtones, the daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Gay V. Henry of Fort McKinney. The honeymoon will be passed at Shelburn Farms, the palatial residence of pr. Seward Webb, who married one of the Vanderbilts. Afterwards they will visit in Boston and New York and later join his regiment at Fort McKinney of which Colonel Henry is commandant. Mrs. Henry was present at the wedding, Colonel Henry being yompelled to give his blessing by telegraph.

SWIFT AND MORRIS. Two of the largest packing houses in the world were joined together by marriage Wednesday evening, October 1, in Chicago, the contracting parties being Edward Morris and Miss Helen Swift, daughter of G. F. Swift, president of Swift & Co. of South Omaha and Chicago, Miss Swift, as the daughter of Gustavus F. Swift, will some day become a rich woman in her own right. Her father is a millionaire. Nobody knows exactly how rich Nelson Morris is, but his friends put his fortune between $10,000,000 and $30,000,000. Edward Morris is liedest son. An October Lawn Party. Seymour Park, the very beautiful suburban home of Dr. and Mrs. George L. Miller, echoed with mirth and galety Wednesday afternoon and evening, the occasion being lawn fete given in honor of the Misses Thall, who have been visiting friends in Omaha for a fortnight. It was Dr. and Mrs. Miller's first public reception and many of the guests wer permitted for the first time to view the beauties of a thoroughly charming home. Throughout the mansion, the greatest taste is discernible in the arrangement of colors, the furniture harmonizrangement of colors, the furniture harmonizing with the draperies, the decorations of the rooms in keeping with the furniture. The doctor, during his very active public life, has not neglected, however, to pick up here and there articles of vertu and bricabrac which hold the attention and excite the admiration of the visitor. The house itself is more like The house itself is more like American gentleman who is busily engaged in looking after the interests of an insurance company. It abounds in minarets and tow-ers, the architecture being sufficiently varied ers, the architecture being sufficiently varied to please the eye at every turn. It is so different from the houses one sees in the west that a feeling of restfulness, of caim contentment takes possession of the visitor and he feels that it is amid such surroundings life reaches the height of fulfillment. At 3:30 o'clock if special train left the Webster street station for Seymour, bearing nearly o'clock a special train left the Webster street station for Seymour, bearing nearly everybody of promisence in Omaha to the party. Later a number of ladies and gentlemen drove out in their carriages, the house and grounds presenting a very animated appearance when the large number of invited guests had arrived. The afternoon was passed in sightseeing, although the Musical Union orchestra piayed a number of charming waitzes, but beyond a few of the young people dancing was not indulged in until later in the evening.

Supper was served during the early twilight and like all the other details it was perfect, just such refreshments as you expect from so entertaining a host and hostes. Dancing followed and nutil 11 o'clock the guests thoroughly enjoyed every minute of

A Silver Wedding Anniversary.

The large and very cosy mansion of Mr. C. F. Weller on Wirt street, Kountze Place was the scene Monday evening of an exceed ingly delightful reception, in honor of Mr and Mrs. Weller's twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. In this works day world of ours it is but the few who are permitted to celebrate their silver wedding, but on this occasion fourgenerations were present besides a very large number of Mr. and Mrs. Weller's friends in Omaha. The house which is one of the largest in Kounte Place, containing twenty rooms, the two pariors, the dining room, reception hall and the library on the lower floor being thrown into one large salon For the occasion the dising room was located in the third story, and here the guests were treated to delicious refreshments throughout Twenty-five years ago, on September 23 1855, Mr. C. F. Weller was married to Miss Kate A. Mclivaine at Beaver, Penu. Immediately after the weiding Mr. and Mrs. Weller left for the west, becoming identified with interests in Missouri and Illinois. Five years ago Mr. Weller came to Omaha, and since that time, by his personality, his energy and his business ability, has made many friends in the city of his adoption. As vice president of the Richardson drug company he has always been in the fore-front of any movement which might benefit this metrope lis of the west.

It was well on toward 10 o'clock when Mr. and Mrs. Weller, to the wedding march played by the Musical Union orchestra, marched into the center of the reception hall, where Rev. Z. S. Weller, the father of the host, of Macon, Mo., addressed them in substance as follows: "Twenty-five years ago you embarked in wedded life. The voyage thus far has been pleasant and prosperous one you have been pleasant and prosperous one, you have been blessed with a large family, and tonight we (the Weller family) are represented in four generations. Having attained to the honor of grand parents, you may perhaps feel a little older, yet your heads are only tinged a little with gray. And as a break has been made in the family circle by the marriage of the oldest one, it is highly probable that other partnerships will be formed until, like your parents, and the state of the partnerships will be formed until, like your parents, the state of the parents of the you will stand alone in this world. You history thus far has been an eventful one nistory thus far has been an eventual one, you have had but little sickness, and have not been called to mourn the loss of one member by death. This is a remark-ble case. It scarcely has a parallel. As to your relation to us, as parents, though you entered the marriage relation young, yet you both have proved a worthy son and daughter. As to your relation to God and the church, whatever you may have been in other rewhatever you may have been in other re spects, you have, to say the least, continually honored God with your substance. We cele brate tonight your twenty-fifth anniversary, and may your fortune be as pleasant and happy as the past, and may you reach your nappy as the past, and may you reach your golden anniversary in honor and peace."

The Rev. Weller was mollowed by Rev. Atkinson of Quincy, Ill., in a few timely and humorous remarks, concluding by reading a poem prepared for the occasion by Rev. Mr. Beans of the Trinity Methodist Episconal church.

Since Twenty Years Ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Zimmerman cele brated the twentieth anniversary of their marriage Monday evening at their home, 1013 Pierce streets. The residence was prettily decorated in honor of the happy event, while a host of friends called during the evening to extend their congratulations to the bride and groom of a score of years ago. Dancing was indulged in by both young and old and the banquet which followed later had the true German ring of hospitality about it.
Twenty years ago Mr. Zimmerman and Miss Catherine Elsasser were married in this city by Judge Morton. During their happy life they have been much abroad, but Omaha

Friday evening Lieutenant and Mrs. Ben-and Bert Cassady.

Friday evening Lieutenant and Mrs. Benham of the Second infantry, with station at Fort Omaha, gave a charming dinner to a few congenial friends at their residence on Military avenue. The guests were General and Mrs. Brooke, Mrs. Hill, Miss Carrie Summers, Hon. Richard Berlin and Dr. Hartsuff of the army. Mr. and Mrs. Benham have the reputation among army people of being delightful entertainers, and the pleasing dinner justified the reputation they have made.

Mrs. W. H. Hanchett, who is always interested in educational matters, has decided upon conducting a Shakespeare class for women employed in stores and offices, either in Dr. Hanchett's office or in some other public place, easily accessible to all the members. One night a week will be devoted to the reading of Shakespeare and a discussion of the dramatist's many-sided genius. Mrs. Hanchett will also map out a course of reading for the members. As this class will be entirely free to those who want to become identical to the state of the st tirely free to those who want to become iden-tified with it. Mrs. Hanchett ought to re-ceive enthusiastic support, as it is are in these days you find a lady scaapable and will-ing to give up one of her evenings for the sake of broad philan thropy.
